| ADDITIONAL INFORMATION | |
| Softball has taught me many things about life. It taught me how to never give up no matter how tough things get. It taught me how mental toughness is a big part in life along with Softball. Softball showed me that no matter how much I want to give up that I shouldn't. I was told to always preform like it was my last time on the field because we never know what is going to happen. Another thing I learned from softball is to always keep a positive mindset. Life is built with a lot of downs like the game of softball. You have to forget about the past and move on. When you move on you learn from your past and correct your mistakes. Softball is my getaway from everything and when I'm down I know I can rely on softball to make me feel better. The field is like a second home to me and has created a feeling for me that nothing else gives me. Although playing ball in college is my goal, my academic goal is to major in Diagnostic Medical Sonography. My secondary educational goal is to apply to the Air Force Academy and major in business.  https://www.youtube.com/channel/UCpo-5Q61NS6cNXHC-b7J_g M.
